

In 2015, the Faculty of Science celebrates its 50th anniversary and the campus its 60th. 60 years of research, excellence, but also so much innovation and scientific mediation (in the years to come): 2 Nobel prizes, 4 Fields medals, the Proto 204 (a third place dedicated to innovation, creation and formation) or the future MISS (Maison d'initiation et de sensibilisation aux sciences, which will develop the scientific culture of pupils in the region Ile-de-France from 2016). Paris-Sud University is now at a turning point of its history as it is going into Paris-Saclay University in the heart of a campus with international potential in term of innovation and of scientific private or public co-construction.

The campus of Orsay welcomes each year almost 10 000 students. The city is proud and happy to have as guests professors, PhD students, researchers and current and future entrepreneurs. But moving in and integrating, sometimes temporarily, in a new city and often in a new country, may be difficult. This selection of addresses and useful links is there for you, students, to help you with daily tasks.

And as you are more than ever mobile and connected, you can find this information on our website mairie-orsay.fr, on the free app Mairie d'Orsay and you can follow us on Facebook and Twitter «Orsay, notre ville». Register and get all the news round-the-clock, wherever you are and whenever you want. Do not hesitate to contact us. We'd be happy to hear any suggestions you may have.

Welcome home and we wish you full success for the new academic year !
